Leadership Training & Development Opportunity

The Rocky Mountain Command College (RMCC) is an exciting opportunity for law enforcement executives and top management personnel to discover information about emerging issues and recent developments influencing law enforcement throughout Colorado and Wyoming. RMCC is a 40-hour training with faculty consisting of experts from the law enforcement field and the private sector. Topics include:

- ◆ Law Enforcement Leadership
- ◆ Officer Involved Shooting Response
- ◆ Crisis Management
- ◆ Active Shooter Pre-Attack Indicators
- ◆ Police Survival & Wellness
- ◆ Leveraging FBI Resources
- ◆ Case Studies

Selection of Attendees

RMCC follows the pattern of the Law Enforcement Executive Development Seminar (LEEDS), held at the FBI Academy, targeting police leaders of agencies with less than 50 sworn officers. (Larger agencies also welcome to apply.) The minimum rank to attend is Sergeant.
